

*Mid Autumn Festival
Hammond Museum in Conjunction with Families with Children from China*

*Present
Chinese Theater works
Saturday September 26, 2105
1:00-3:00 pm*

Hao Bang Ah, Sheep!

Written and directed by: Kuang-Yu Fong and Stephen Kaplin

“Hao Bang Ah” is a common Chinese expression meaning “Great!” or “Well done!” The show features a jolly selection of hand puppet vignettes, many based on popular songs and well known Chinese sayings. While some parts of the program are performed in Chinese, all include English translations and explanations. The audience will also be introduced to some of the other animals of the Chinese zodiac-- Tigers, Rabbits, Dragons and Snakes. They will learn about Chinese New Year customs and foods (red envelopes, fish and “nian gao”). Sing-alongs, games and audience participation and a post-show hands-on demonstrations make the Chinese cultural experience and language learning accessible to even the youngest audience members.

There will be face painting and children will decorate paper lanterns, and taste Chinese snacks

www.hammondmuseum.org

Museum members $20. for family up to 4; $5. each additional person
Non members $25. for family up to 4; $5. each additional person

Name _____ Address _____

Phone _____ E-mail _____

Member (Y/N) # additional Family members _____ Total Enclosed _____

Method of Payment circle one Credit Check enclosed

Credit card # _____ Expiration Date _____ Zipcode _____

NOTE: Visa or Mastercard

Funding for exhibits and programs is made possible, in part, by ArtsWestchester with funds from the Westchester County Government ; additional funding from M&T Bank.

Hammond Museum & Japanese Stroll Garden

28 Deveau Road | PO Box 326 | North Salem, NY 10560 | (914) 669-5033

